

The background of the entire slide is a faded, high-resolution image of the United States flag, showing the stars and stripes in a slightly wavy, draped pattern.

2007

On September 11, 2001, the United States of America suffered the single greatest loss of civilian lives that we have ever experienced. Those who perished, the heroic first responders and our fellow citizens, will never be forgotten. We must forever remember and honor them, respecting their courage and sacrifice.

These memories are our incentive to maintain our vigilance and strengthen our commitment in the war against terrorism.
